One of the best things about the holidays is driving around your neighborhood looking at all the beautifully decorated homes.

It's even better when you get to peek inside the home of a local celebrity.

This Saddle River estate — listed at $5.9 million with Special Properties realtors — features six bedrooms, seven full baths and two half-baths, and is located on 5.7 acres. It's the home of actress, comedian and philanthropist Rosie O'Donnell.

Upper Saddle River's Judy Morton, who showcased O'Donnell's home on the Holiday House Tour for Rebuilding Together for Bergen County last year, brought together various interior designers who found inspiration in the season and beautifully decorated each room for the holidays. ➤
